

Zeljko Bak

Leading teams to build better products, Amplexor Life Sciences

Željko Bak is motivated by innovation, product design, building teams and the pursuit of improving how people and companies can work and perform better.

Having served as a manager and leader for numerous teams and organizations, Željko has extensive experience in telecom, tourism, finance, SaaS, communication platform and software development industries. Over the course of 20+ years, Željko has worked closely with C-level executives, gaining invaluable insights and maintaining a strategic, long-term perspective that enables him to think big and globally.

Željko holds degrees from Zagreb University of Applied Sciences and Cotrugli Business School Executive MBA. His lasting aspiration is to build and lead teams that create global, innovative and impactful businesses and products.